THE MOTION UNDER ADVISEMENT.

Attorney Felker Argues Against the Legality of the Suit So Far as It Affects His Clients, and Asks That They May Be Relieved.MADISON, Wis., June 6.—Attorney Felker, of Oshkosh, made a motion in the circuit court here to-day to dismiss all of that part of the action of the state in the treasury matter which has to do with the First National Bank of Oshkosh, and to relieve the cashier and other officers from testifying in the case. Judge Siebeker took the matter under advisement.

GAINED HIS END.

Apparent Success of Mr. Balfour's Coercion Act.LONDON, June 6.—Mr. Balfour's proposal to relax the coercion act will not be explicitly announced in the house of commons until next week, but enough is known as to what the government intends to propose to justify the conservative in feeling some little pride over the results of Balfour's policy. All the provision of the coercion act directed against criminal conspiracy will be withdrawn, whilst other provisions, notably the secret inquiry section, will be retained. Mr. Balfour's first statement that while there are 3,019 prisoners in Ireland who were sentenced under the ordinary law there are only twenty-one who were sentenced under the coercion act has been the occasion in the unionist press of telling contrasts with the coercion policy of Mr.
Gladstone when the prisons were full. In the face of prison statistics and in the face also of the facts of absolute peace in every district in Ireland, and the cessation in the past and on the platform of expressions of discontent, the Gladstonians will find it difficult to respond to the unionist's charge.The accepted liberal explanation is that the pacification of Ireland is due as much to the Gladstone policy of conciliation as to Mr. Balfour's coercion, and further, that the Dublin executive has long been playing with coercion, and that the coercive screw has been put in hand crime has run up, and when the screw has been loosened crime has run down.
These explanations ignore the Glad-stonian predictions, when the crimes bill was under discussion in parliament, that such an awful piece of brutal despotism, from which the coast guard might well shrink, would produce a crop of dynamite and other outrages that would appall the civilized world. Doubtless a number of causes operated to associate the Balfour regime with the steady cessation of disorder, but the blindest partnership cannot refuse Mr. Balfour the credit of attaining the results which his persistent policy aimed at.
His administration has seen the National league broken to pieces, the plan of campaign collapsed and coercion suspended after four years of operation.

DEATH OF JOHN FOULDS.

The Once Famous Illinois Coal Operator Killed by a Railroad Train.DANVILLE, Ill., June 6.—John Foulds, formerly a millionaire, was struck and instantly killed by a freight train near Hoopeson Friday morning. Foulds came to Vermillion county from Scotland and was the first extensive coal operator in eastern Illinois.
For imagined grievances he sued nearly all his neighbors and all the prominent men of the county at Springfield in the United States court. Henry Olmstead, one of the men whom he prosecuted, shot him in the brain.
Foulds became partially insane and lost his magnificent fortune.

Struck by a Train.

CHICAGO, June 6.—As the north bound train of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad leaving Chicago at 5:25 neared South Evanston Friday evening a group of little girls was sighted walking up the track toward the depot. Two of the four heard the approaching engine in time to step from the track. But the engine struck the other two, mangleing one of the little girls, Maggie Sherry, so that she died within ten minutes and throwing the other, Rosa Riddle, aged 5 years, from the track, injuring her severely but not fatally.

Ten Men Killed.

LONDON, June 6.—An immense granite block which was being hoisted to its place in the walls of the new

BAY CITY, Mich., June 6.—E. S. Fitch & Co.'s fertilizing works, built last fall, were totally destroyed by fire at 12:45 o'clock Friday morning. The fire originated in the drying room, which became overheated. Loss, $30,000.

another.

LONDON, June 6.—The bill providing for the issue of an order in council prohibiting the taking of seals in Behring sea by British ships has passed the house of commons.

CUT WORMS KILLED BY THE QUART.

H. C. Wilford Tells How Paris Green Can Be Made Effective.Cut worms are reported as causing damage in many parts of the county.
H. C. Wilford, of Beloit, writes that a neighbor of his picked the new growth of elder bush, soaked the little bushes of leaves or twigs in a strong solution of Paris green and walked over his corn field dropping here and there promiscuously. On the following day he found from four to five and upwards of dead and dying worms under each bunch.

MOLE CULVERT GIVING AWAY.

Another Big Land-slide Takes Out Several Feet of Roadway.There was another big "landslide" up at the Mole culvert last evening, several feet more of the roadway going into the great ditch. The culvert and roadway appear to be undermined by the recent rain. The entire culvert will probably have to be dug up and rebuilt.

THE END IS NEAR.

Sir John's Death But a Question of a Few Hours.OTTAWA, O. L., June 6.—Sir John Macdonald may die at any moment. At 7:45 Friday evening Dr. Powell issued a bulletin saying: "Sir John Macdonald became unconscious about 4 p. m. and his end is fast approaching." A bulletin issued at 2 p. m. said: "At 1 p. m. consultation we find Sir John Macdonald in a somewhat alarming state. His strength, which has gradually failed him during this week, shows a marked decline since yesterday. Respiration 38, pulse 120, more feeble and irregular than heretofore. In our opinion his hours of life are steadily waning." Dr. Wright attributes the change for the worse which took place Friday evening to failure of both brain and heart, and Dr. Grant likens the premier's condition to the dying flickering of a burnt-out candle which may go out at any moment. "I don't see," said he, "how he can last more than a few hours at most. His condition is as bad as can be, and the thread between life and death may be severed at any moment." Sir John continued to grow worse. Late in the afternoon he became unconscious and remained in that condition all night.Among conservative members of parliament the impression prevails that Sir John Thompson will be called upon to form a new administration, but it is possible that Lord Stanley will endeavor to ascertain who is acceptable to the majority in parliament before creating the impression to anyone. A senior member of the ministry and acting leader of the government in the house of commons, Sir Hector Langevin's claims to the premiership are entitled to consideration, but the rank and file of the ministerialists do not seem inclined to follow Sir Hector, and cannot be induced to contemplate the possibility of his forming an administration.
With respect to Sir Charles Tupper they are even more outspoken, alleging that his recent course in assailing the credit of Canadian railways and the loyalty of Canadian people has made him an impossibility as a political leader.
It is so seldom that a premier dies actually in harness that the course to follow in such an event is little known.
Constitutional authorities agree that with the death of Sir John the ministry as such will come to an end, but the members of it will continue to hold office as heads of departments of state unless they resign. They, however, will no longer form a body of advisers.
Lord Stanley will then exercise the highest function of his office and call on some one to form a ministry.KINGSTON, Ont. June 6.—Sir John's illness was caused by his activity here during the last election. He attended several meetings and was attacked with congestion of one lung. He recovered and then visited a locomotive works where he inhaled dust, and became exhausted climbing stairs. He would have entirely recovered had he not left his bed and gone to Ottawa to receive returns from all over the dominion. Any other man would have rested, but physicians had no control over him. This city is grief-stricken.

GEN. SCHOFIELD TO MARRY.

The Commander of the United States Army to Wed Miss Georgia Kilbourne, of Keokuk, Ia., on June 18.CHICAGO, June 6.—Maj. Gen. John M.
Schofield, commander-in-chief of the United States army, will be married on June 18 to Miss Georgia Kilbourne, of Keokuk, Ia., at the home of the bride's parents.
The bride is 26 years old, and her father is one of the wealthiest and best known men in Iowa. She is possessed of a comfortable fortune in her own right, and will have still more from her mother. Miss Kilbourne first met the Schofields years ago, and an intimate friend of the general's daughter Mary, being maid of honor when she married Lieut.
Andrews recently. Gen. Schofield is now 60 years of age but Miss Kilbourne's sister married Gen. Barney, of New York, when she was only 23 and the general 74, and the match proved a most happy one. Arrangements for the wedding have all been completed, about 4,000 invitations issued, and a special train will convey the general's friends from Chicago to Keokuk.

ROASTED ALIVE.

Terrible Fate of Two Little Girls in Pennsylvania.PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 6.—The dwelling of Samuel P. Myers, a prominent farmer, of Summit township, near Myersdale, Pa., was burned to the ground Thursday night, and two children, Clara and Missouri, aged 9 and 12 years respectively, roasted alive. The fire spread so rapidly that the nine other occupants barely escaped in their night clothes. Three men and one woman were compelled to jump from a second-story window. Mr. Myers was badly burned, but will recover. It is not known how the fire originated.

the man fainted. His clothing and the

ILLINOIS.

The Senate Fails to Pass the Eight-Hour Bill—Other Legislative Delays.SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 6.—In the senate Senator Mahoney introduced a joint resolution for a joint committee to investigate the contract convict labor system still in operation in the Joliet penitentiary, the commissioners in their reports having acknowledged that they had made contracts regardless of the constitution. The resolution went over under the rules.
The eight-hour bill of Senator O'Connor failed to pass—24 yeas to 33 nays, lacking two affirmative votes. Fuller, Knopf and Humphrey were the only Republicans voting with the democrats.The house devoted the forenoon to the consideration of the senate general appropriation bill. A fight was made on Secretary Rauch, of the state board of health, and that portion of the bill providing for his salary was stricken out.During the debate on the appropriation bill in the house Mr. Partridge offered as a new section to the entire bill a provision that no part of the appropriation for the state treasurer's office should be available until the entire amount obtained or received by the state treasurer as interest upon the public funds is first exhausted in the payment of salaries and expenses of the state treasurer's office. After a long discussion the amendment was defeated by a vote of 74 yeas to 54 nays.Fifty democrats and fifty republican members have agreed to sit and do business on Saturday and Monday, so that the usual adjournment, Friday until Tuesday will not prevail. An attempt by Senator Fuller to adjourn the senate to the usual Monday afternoon hour was a failure, only sixteen senators being recorded in favor of it.

THE COAL INDUSTRY.

Development of Mining in Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.WASHINGTON, June 6.—The census office is about to issue a statement of the showing of the eleventh census in respect to the production of coal in Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. The production and value for the last decade is as follows:

	Products, short tons.	Value.
Illinois.....	12,104,272	$11,755,928
Ohio.....	9,978,797	8,335,409
Indiana.....	2,845,057	2,887,878
Michigan.....	64,431	113,011

The greatest increase of production in the past years is shown by Illinois—5,988,895 short tons. The increase in value of the product is as follows: Illinois, $2,975,371; Ohio, $1,635,733; Indiana, $717,594. The coal area in Illinois is 37,000 square miles; in Ohio, 10,000; in Indiana, 7,000; and in Michigan, 7,000. There has been a gradual decrease in the production of coal in Michigan since 1882, the total decrease being 33,369 tons in production and $109,459 in value. The principal statistics of the industry are as follows:

	Employees.	Wages.	Total expendi- ture.
Illinois.....	34,323	$8,694,347	$10,326,0

SOME REAL McKINLEY PRICES.

A Rochester firm, J. Fahy & Co., make the following announcement through the Post Express of that city: All over the states and even into the manufacturing districts of France and England our articles on the tariff have been quoted. We have had letters from varied and wide directions asking for desired proof of our assertions on the McKinley bill. We have gladly given them, and now to save further correspondence we must insist on a visit to our place of business for further explanations. As an instance of the condition, without delaying to interpret the cause, we are selling regular 64x64 print at 6 cents. A year ago they were 7 cents; regular count gingham now 10 cents, a year ago 12 1/2 cents; 3 pound sheetings 7 cents, a year ago 8 cents. Nos. 4, 5, 7, 9, 12 and 16 silk ribbons 25 per cent less than a year ago. American hosiery 10 per cent less. Underwear, an article of large consumption, 10 per cent less now. This is the dirge of the "McKinley prices" humbug. It is nothing to the song we'll soon sing o'er the grave of the "tin-plated liar."

SHALL THEY OPEN ON SUNDAY?

In a public interview ex-Senator Palmer, of Michigan, president of the World's Columbian exposition at Chicago, says: "If I know the mind of the directorate, it is to open the doors of the great show on Sundays. The show will all be there, and the people can see it on that day as well as on any day of the week. We consider the best interests of Chicago in making that decision, for otherwise the great show will be crowded with the visitors."

The New York World, in the same connection, calls attention to the annual report of the Cincinnati Museum association for 1890. In this it is stated that as an experiment the trustees last year reduced the price of admission on Sundays from 25 cents to 10 cents. The result, it is announced, has been that 13,933 people visited the museum on Sundays during the year 1890, against 397 in 1889.

QUARANTINED ONES GET NO PAY.

A great part of the time at the meeting of the state board of health in Madison was occupied in the reading of inquiries sent in from various portions of the state in regard to contagious diseases, especially diphtheria. Some were desirous to know if there is any authority for the destruction of houses in which diphtheria has prevailed. Others were seeking information regarding permits for burial. From one locality came a letter inquiring if there is authority for shutting up people where diphtheria exists and not allowing them any compensation. The board made the ruling that it could be done where safety public demanded it.

Colonel Watterson has had another unrestrained impulse. He does not write a letter but prints a half-column addressed to the Democrats of Ohio. He would have them "not go blundering about the woods, hunting hobby horses or shooting each other from behind the trees." If Colonel Watterson's patron goddess tries to keep her eye on Ohio democrats she will be known soon as a star-eyed goddess but as a cross-eyed goddess.

A good many unpleasant things are being said about John J. Ingalls but this much will be conceded—the keen pen of the ex-senator will greatly improve the editorial page of the New York Truth. Whatever may be thought of the ex-senator's recent vacillating course in politics, one thing cannot be gainsaid. He uses powerful, pure and fascinating English upon all subjects he undertakes to discuss.

Knights of Reciprocity is the name of a new order which is being applied to Kansas as a counter irritant to the alliance. It has already a membership of 20,000. Old line republicans favor its sentiments but oppose its secret work. They, and good citizens everywhere, agree that a secret society to influence politics is un-American.

Governor Tillman of South Carolina is making a good deal of a show of himself. Having captured the executive office he now denounces the sub-treasury scheme with great vigor. It was this vagary and Governor Tillman that broke the back of Wade Hampton, and this revolution of sentiment on the part of the governor is remarkable.

From many quarters come appeals to the state board of health for a better and safer system of burials. The board has been paying strict attention to them and has adopted a resolution asking the adoption of ordinances by all cities of six thousand inhabitants and over, securing a strict system of burial permits.

The present New York legislature is not composed of saints if we are to believe what we see in print. The New York Herald says: "If Judas Iscariot was in Albany and had his money bag with him, he could buy a majority-vote of endorsement as a white souled patriot."

The French paper that announced when Lawrence Barrett died that "Mme." Barrett's husband had been a captain in the civil war, has a rival. Another Paris Journal tells its readers how William H. Crane has been elected to the United States senate 500 times.

The Marinette Eagle is reminded by the summersaults which the democratic papers are turning over the Dodge legacy law, of the story of the fellow who had the fat con for sale—"it is not so very blank fat after all."

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES.

The Surgeon General.
Dr. Charles Sutherland, surgeon general of the United States, succeeding the late Dr. Baxter, is a native Pennsylvanian, sixty years of age. He has been in the army service as a surgeon about thirty-seven years, and when appointed to his present office was a member of the retiring board at Governor's Island, N. Y.

Traveling Women and Hotels.
The season of travel near at hand revives interest in the question of the reception of women alone at hotels. Almost every hotel proprietor will say, on being questioned, that all such unaccompanied guests would, at his place, be accorded a respectful welcome; but it happens often that women reaching houses of public entertainment unattended are not received. Last summer in Saratoga, in the height of the season, a young woman traveling to join a party of friends was delayed by a railroad wreck, and in consequence lost connection with the north-bound train. She reached Saratoga about 1 o'clock in the morning, in the very height of the season, and went at once confidently to a hotel where she had occasionally stopped with friends. She was refused a lodging.

She tried one or two others with the same result, and at last, abashed and mortified, she found a policeman, to whom she told her story and begged him to find her a refuge of some sort. He then accompanied her, but they visited three lodging houses before a proprietor was found who would give to the lone traveler a room and a woman a shelter. It is significant, too, that the proprietor in question was another woman, and not one of the clever hotel clerks who pride themselves on their ability to "size up" people.

An even more aggravated case occurred in New York last winter. A lady over fifty years old, with gray hair and of distinguished appearance, came with her husband from their suburban home for an evening at the theater. In leaving after the performance she became separated from her husband in the crowd, and spent time enough in vain endeavors to find him to lose the last train home. She went, therefore, to a first class hotel, and one where a friend of the family was a regular boarder. She was refused a room. Indignant, she said she was a friend of Mr. —, who boarded there. The room was still denied. Then she asked if Mr. — was in. Yes, he was in, but had gone to bed. She had him aroused, with the word that Mrs. — was waiting to see him. Soon he came down to the office, and in two minutes the house was at the lady's disposal.

This would seem to indicate that our vaunted boast that a woman may travel alone from Maine to California in perfect comfort and safety is not upheld by facts—Her Point of View in New York Times.

The youngest litigant on record is Richard Jones, of St. Louis, whose age is six months and who is suing the St. Louis, Kansas City & Colorado railway for $5,000 for the death of his father, who was killed in a wreck.

A Clear Complexion.
Pe-ru-na will produce a clear complexion and smooth skin. It does so by correcting digestion, the great source of blood contamination. Many young people from 14 to 20 years of age are greatly annoyed by pimples so common at that time of life. Pe-ru-na removes them by removing the cause, viz., blood impurities. Of course it requires some perseverance to take any medicine with regularity day after day, but it amply rewards any man or woman to do so if by that means they are able to rid themselves of pimply face and secure a clear, bright face instead. This is precisely what Pe-ru-na will do. Each bottle is accompanied by full directions for use, and can be obtained of your druggist. A valuable book of 32 pages on the cure of skin and blood diseases, and other diseases of spring and early summer, will be sent free by the Peru-na Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio.

STATE PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee Journal.—It is easier to be square with your employers than to exercise the eternal vigilance necessary to be certain when the boss is looking.

Superior Telegram: Schwienfurther, the Rockford "Christ," ought to quit now. Anybody with a game so reprehensible that the people of Kansas City won't allow it to be dealt in their town, is altogether too tough to be allowed to go around loose.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Governor Peck would probably like to be back to LaCrosse fishing for cat-fish, free from care. There is an army of applicants for places on the new state board and to one person who can be pleased there are scores who are going to be as mad as a wet hen.

CENSURED THE PRINCE.

Action of the South Wales Methodists in the Baccarat Case.

CARDIFF, June 6.—The Methodists in South Wales, before adjourning their quarterly meeting Thursday adopted the following resolutions: "Resolved, That this meeting learns with regret from the proceedings in the high court of justice that the prince of Wales took part in a game of baccarat at Tranby Croft, September 8, 1890, and thus gave countenance to gambling in one of its most heinous and ruinous forms; the force of his example thus encouraging vice among the people.

"HERE'S RICHNESS!"

Local Market Men Have Much to Offer for Sunday.

"HOME GROWN" A COMMON LABEL.

Vegetables from Janesville Gardens Are Plentiful and Cheap, and Rock County Strawberries Are Also To Be Had—Current Prices.

"We never had a better supply of vegetables at this season of the year," remarked a West Milwaukee street dealer. "All kinds of vegetables have arrived here fresh and nice. Cabbage, new potatoes, cauliflowers, squash and lettuce have been coming from Alabama, in fact all the first shipments came from points in Alabama; then from Mississippi, Crystal Springs being a great shipping point. As the season advanced Tennessee and Kentucky vegetables came into the market, then Southern Illinois, Cairo being a big distributing point."

Home Grown "Sass" in Market. We now have many varieties of early vegetables grown right here at home. Lettuce, radishes, onions, asparagus, of home production are now to be had, and are getting so plenty that there are but few calls for them. Many people have little garden patches and grow such stuff for their own use. Cucumbers are still coming from Alabama, ripe tomatoes from the same place. New potatoes also are shipped from Alabama, and are very nice, selling at 50 cents a peck. I think they will be considerably cheaper next week.

Michigan Berries Now on Call. "Strawberries have been in good supply and demand the whole season. We received our first shipment from Michigan Friday. After this and until our own berries are ready for the market the supply will come from Michigan. Our berries are generally ready for the market about June 10, but they are a little late this year. A few boxes of "home grown" were sold today but it can't be the 15th before they come into market."

"Very little fruit now comes from California. We have cherries, but they are selling at 25 cents a pound, while our own are selling at 10 cents a box. A few apricots are coming in, but there is no demand for them, and will not be until the small berry crop is exhausted. Oranges from the Pacific coast are plenty, only a few varieties that are really first class. Mediterranean sweets, cardinals and Macarena bloods are the best and are favorites now in the market. Oranges and lemons are selling at all prices. A boom is expected in the lemon market as soon as the hot weather arrives. Bananas and pineapples plenty.

Bananas and pineapples are very plenty in the local market, and the fruit is fine and cheap. Fine ripe pineapples are selling all the way from 12 cents to 25 cents each, while the finest bananas sell for 25 cents a dozen. In fact, there is no lack of fruit, berries or vegetables. About everything grown north of the Isthmus of Panama is found fresh in the Janesville market.

Vegetable quotations are given today as follows: New potatoes—50 cents a peck. Summer squash—5 cents each. Peas—50 cents a peck. Beans—green, string, and wax, 10 cents a pound.

Beets—5 cents a bunch. Onions—5 cents a bunch. Lettuce—5 cents a bunch. Asparagus—5 cents a bunch. Radishes—5 cents a bunch. Tomatoes—15 cents a pound. Cucumbers—7 and 8 cents each. Cabbage—various prices, according to size and condition.

Many stick to the Cans. There is but little falling off in the demand for canned fruit, many people preferring to use the canned goods.

Cherries are coming in quite freely from Illinois and are selling at 10 cents a box. The home crop of cherries, strawberries, raspberries, black berries and gooseberries now promises to be far above the average, and the indications are that people will have plenty of these before July.

PINEAPPLE DIDN'T CURE HIM.

The Juice of the Fruit Used Freely on Starr Judd.

"You may say in The Gazette that I take no stock in the pineapple treatment of diphtheria," said Dr. W. H. Judd to a reporter. "I gave it a thorough trial in the treatment of my boy. He had all the pineapple juice he could swallow, and we used it as a wash in connection with other treatment. I am convinced it gave him no relief."

SHE LAY AS IF DEAD.

Mrs. Seymour Johnson Found Unconscious on a Barn Floor.

FEARS THAT HER NECK WAS BROKEN.

Sister-in-Law of the Janesville Hotel Man Badly Hurt—A Runaway Horse Responsible for Serious Injuries—Unfounded Reports of Death.

Mrs. Seymour Johnson was picked up from the barn floor at her home in Johnson Center last evening in an insensible condition. Her head and hair were clotted with blood, and over her left eye hung a portion of her scalp.

Those who rushed into the barn and picked her up pronounced her dead, but on reaching the house the limp body it was found that she was still breathing though unconscious. Medical aid was summoned, but not until late in the evening was consciousness restored.

Hurted From the Buggy.

Mrs. Johnson's injuries were the result of a runaway accident. She had been to Old Johnson to visit Mrs. Haight, going with a horse and buggy. Returning home in the evening she had reached the neighborhood of the church at the Center, when her horse took fright at another horse in the road and ran away. The horse made direct for its home about sixty rods away and the gates being open it ran into the yard and into the barn. After entering the barn the buggy must have struck a post or some obstruction, as Mrs. Johnson was thrown with great force to the floor, striking on her head and shoulders.

Fearful Her Sight Was Gone.

A telephone message was at once sent to Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Johnson, of this city, Seymour Johnson and E. C. Johnson being brothers. The latest reports from Johnson town this morning state that the injured lady passed a very restless night, but was quite easy and comfortable this morning, and that the surgeon thought no serious results would follow. Mrs. Johnson, besides severe bruises on the head and shoulders, has a large scalp wound on the left side of her head. The scalp hanging over her eyes led many to believe her eyes were put out.

CROPS HAVING A HARD TIME.

Sowing Salt for Chinch Bugs. Small grain is looking very poor on the Rock-Jefferson county line. Some fields of oats are being plowed and planted to corn. Much of the barley, owing to chinch bugs can be only a partial crop. Some will plow it up and sow to millet, and fodder corn. Others are sowing salt in hopes that will prevent the chinch bug ruining the crop. Several corn fields are being badly damaged by the bugs. Potato bugs are plenty and waiting patiently for the potatoes to put in an appearance.

Corn Pulled Up by Crows.

Crows are said to be pulling up much corn in the northern part of the county. It is suggested that this might be avoided if all the farmers would take good advice and destroy all the nests on their premises in due time, and while doing this also administer to the old ones a five ounce dose of lead.

Woe! Woe! Unutterable Woe.

Why endure it daily, nightly, we had well nigh said, hourly? They do who are tortured by chronic constipation. The remedy, botanic, pure, safe and prompt is at hand. Were the evidence in behalf of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters collated, it would be found to team with well authenticated proofs that the medicine is both a preventive and a remedy in this malady of varying agonies and insupportable danger. To forestall its chronic stage is the dictate of prudence. Renounce dangerous medication. Far more effective, more certain, more permanent in the beneficent consequences is the use of the Bitters. Experience endorses the recommendations sanction its use. Begin early, use with persistence, and expect relief. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters relieves constipation, biliousness, kidney ailments, dyspepsia and malarial trouble.

Old Fellows Who Wear Laurels.

James A. Fathens, W. E. Spicer, Will Scofield and W. G. Metcalf returned home last evening, they having been in the Odd Fellows grand lodge.

MUST TEACHERS PAY A TAX?

Pointed Inquiry in Behalf of the City Educational Staff.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—Does the recent action of the school board mean that our city teachers are expected to pay a rather heavy special tax to help pay for our new school building? It seems so. Is it right? JUSTICE.

The Gazette understands that the pay of the teachers has not been altered from that of last year. The school year for '91 and '92 has been shortened two weeks, the term being thirty-six weeks instead of thirty-eight. This is presumably the special tax of which "Justice" complains.

Clarence Clark Has Lost Flesh.

Milwaukee Journal—Clarence Clark, private secretary to Governor Peck, has been in the city for some time, looking as lively and healthy as usual. He had not performed the work formerly done by two men during a session of the legislature. He had lots to do all winter, and came out in the spring looking as pale as a victim of cigarettes; but a man who has made a success of running a democratic paper in Rock county is used to hard work, and does not take long to recuperate.

They Lived Well.

N. B. Rockwell, Co. F, 31st Ind. 1386 Broadway, New York, N. Y., says that rebel sympathizers have been making complaints in the Indianapolis Journal about the treatment received by rebel prisoners captured at Fort Donelson and confined at Indianapolis. They are also trying to injure the reputation of Dr. Jameson, one of the leading surgeons of Indianapolis, who at that time had charge of the rebel prisoners. The writer knows that the prisoners had the very best living and their quarters were kept clean by themselves. The writer thinks this an unfavorable time to bring this subject up before the poor devils who suffer at Andersonville and other hell-holes of the Confederacy. It is a well-known fact that the rebel soldiers were sleek and fat when they left the Northern prisons, while our poor boys were skeletons and covered with sores, rags and vermin when they were exchanged.

STRUCK BY A FLOOD.

C. M. & St. P. Road Bed Spread Over Fields Near Orford.

GROUND LOOKS LIKE A RIVER BED

Three Hundred Feet of Track in One Spot Washed Away by the Force of the Recent Big Rain Storms—Rails Left in Air.

Much damage was done on the Mineral Point Division of the St. Paul road by the big storm. In the vicinity of Brodhead the rainfall was tremendous, and in one place near Orford, the track was washed out for a distance of 300 feet. The entire roadbed was swept away, and the gravel with which the track was ballasted was washed over into the neighboring fields. The land about the place where the washout occurred is perfectly level, and there is no large stream near by, but there are all the indications of a river having been turned from its course and its waters permitted to pour over the track. This morning the track had been repaired to such an extent that trains were running, but yesterday the Mineral Point train that is due in Janesville at 9:30 was delayed by the breaking of a rail at the place where the Orford washout occurred. The ties, which were still loose as a result of the flood, spread so as to leave the rail unsupported for quite a distance.

FORTUNE FOR A MISSING HEIR.

A Son of a Southern Family Who Was Cut Off for Wedding a Poor Girl.

A romantic story of the disinherited son of one of the most aristocratic of South Carolina families, which contains the elements of the popular tale of fiction, has just come out in San Francisco, has just come to light.

The Lees of South Carolina trace their ancestry back for a couple of centuries. One of their great-grandfathers planted his cotton fields with the plowmen of the Carolinas. Each generation added to the family possessions, until thirty years ago the possessions of the Lee estate extended for miles on either side of the old family manor house, and the planter counted his slaves with three fingers. Then the war came. The Lee blood was contributed generously and the Lee blood flowed freely in the cause of the Confederacy.

When the end came the Lees, though their magnificent estate had been sadly diminished, found themselves still rich, but crushed by the failure of the cause for which they had sacrificed so much. They retired to their country home and lived in the exclusiveness of the little world encompassed by the boundaries of their plantation. The years went on, and D. McCord Lee, the eldest son and the hope of the family, grew to manhood. There was a great future intended for the handsome boy, and money was spent lavishly in his education.

All went well until he met and loved pretty Gretchen Flemming, a young German maiden of the neighborhood, who had nothing but her beauty and a warm heart to exchange for the patrician name and wealth of her suitor. Young McCord told his father of his attachment for the lowly child of the people, and there was a scene. The elder Lee stormed, but to no purpose. The son was obstinate and refused to yield to his father's wishes. The marriage alliance was the last straw to the family pride of the Lees. The son was disinherited by his father, and the doors of his childhood home were closed upon him forever.

Young Lee determined to make a start in the world for himself, and with his young wife, came to San Francisco. That was twelve years ago. Finely educated, fit to be a senator, and with the energy of gaining a livelihood, the struggle for existence was hard. Then domestic troubles began, and the home of the young couple was far from happy. Four years ago a separation was agreed upon. Mrs. Lee was turning to Germany, where she soon after died.

During all of these years not a word had passed between the estranged son and any member of his family. The years kept well his word, and the son was too proud to seek a reconciliation. After the separation from his wife Lee disappeared, leaving no clue by which his future could be traced. A few days ago a lady of this city, who has been intimate with the family since her childhood, received a letter from the missing man's brother in South Carolina stating that the father and mother were both dead, and that the estate was to be divided among the children, and asking that the lady should make every effort to ascertain the whereabouts of D. McCord Lee, San Francisco Chronicle.

Tailor Made Novelties.

Plain skirts and Newmarket bodices are characteristics of some of the newest tailor dresses. In the cut of these bodices there is variety. Some of them button at the back, and yet show a necktie and a waistcoat. Some have double lapels, others fasten with three buttons at the waist. Drill waistcoats continue to be worn. A new mode of chevrons, tied with a rough shawl, but cool and light, has the long bodice cut with deep tails, and ornamented with shaded bow buttons. The plain skirt, cut without a wrinkle in front and at the sides, has a well-known fact that the necessary amount of fulness hangs in small plaits at the back, peeping out from two overlapping flat plaits.

Every brocade silk vestings are being adapted to make some of the summer costumes. A costume intended for wear at the races and other day entertainments is composed of a fine cloth, which is stone washed, and a very original design of purple orchids in purple velvet, outlined with braid in a paler shade, shot with gold. The design is carried round the skirt, where the orchids rise up from the hem, and on the cuffs and up the front of the bodices. The bodice front is quite plain, fastening up the middle, the orchid design being skillfully divided, and then completely joined when the hooks are fastened. The skirt is cut just over the hips, and edged with gold and purple braid.

Sometimes several children are examined one after another by using this instrument. What better means to transmit the disease? I know of none. I am glad that all physicians do
